

Large Difference Of Opinion on Sask. Elections

By T. B. WINDROSS

EDMONTON.—Just how many seats the Social Credit campaign is going to win in Saskatchewan, supposing it wins any, was the question of chief interest around the Legislative Buildings here this week opened.

The difference in opinion was wide. Hon. E. C. Manning, who left his office on Alberta's Minister of Trade and Industry to go to Saskatchewan as chief organizer there, came back to Edmonton for a few days with the report that it looked as though Social Credit might win a majority of seats. Other reports, however, did not jibe with that. Other party followers said here that the Social Credit machine would be surprised and delighted if it got 15 seats, some set the figure as low as six.

It was believed here that the chief changes of the party lay in the ridings along the Alberta border, where William Aberhart's Sunday orations have been heard for 10 years or more.

To hook Saskatchewan voters, Mr. Aberhart is using the same bait as he used in Alberta, but is not committing himself to the same extent as he did in 1935. In his speaking tour last week, he said that he thought everybody in Saskatchewan should have a dividend of $25 a month—but he did not promise to provide it. He said that mountain pens and printing presses should make more money—but he did not say that he would see to it; he said, instead, that it was up to the Dominion Government. He said that dividends should replace wages; "make the machines pay the dividends." He was so confident that he did not mean the Social Credit machine.

A Remarkable Statement

The remarkable statement which the Premier has made in his Saskatchewan campaign is in regard to the offer of Hon. Chas. A. Dunning, Federal Minister of Finance, to assist the Alberta Government in establishing a provincial bank. "Mr. Dunning had better be careful, or I'll call his bluff some day and show him how to run a bank," the Alberta Premier told his audience at Maidstone, Sask.

Political observers here remarked that two years ago the Alberta Legislature adopted a resolution asking the Government to investigate the feasibility of establishing a provincial bank, and that the Government never has made any move toward establishing such a bank.

They noted also that Mr. Dunning (Continued on Page Five)

Talk on Borneo Given by Elder Rowland

The final meeting of the Young People's League of the season was featured by an informal and informative talk by Elder J. W. Rowland of the Canadian Junior College, on his mission work in Borneo. Stationed for 13 years at Singapore, where he described as a modern city with the most up-to-date streets he had ever seen, the speaker felt this city might well be described as the Melting Pot of the East, as 50 languages are spoken there, with the Malay language being generally used by all as a means of communication.

Borneo, third largest island in the world, is inhabited by the Dyak tribes in the Western part. All tribes are Devil Worshipers and the people live in continual fear, as the most trivial things are considered as bad omens. However, through missionary efforts, churches have been established.

Mrs. Rowland sang a lovely solo, "I'm Sure I Shall Not Pass This Way Again," and she, with her two daughters, Julia Joan and Lola Jane, sang a delightful trio in the Malay language, "God Will Take Care of You."

Thieves Net 200 Gallons Gasoline Sunday Night

Approximately two hundred hundred gallons of gasoline, valued at $60, was stolen from the Maple Leaf Products filling station, located on the corner of 10th and Kensington Sunday night. Thieves broke the locks of the gasoline pumps and emptied the large storage tanks, some time between midnight Sunday and early Monday morning. Local police are investigating.

A robbery of gasoline from the Imperial Oil Filling Station at Rimby last week is also reported, and it is surmised that the theft was made by the same gang of thieves.

Local Lad Works To Keep Dog

A real human interest story! A boy and his dog—true companionship. Unable to raise the money for a tag for his dog, a local boy showed up at the Town Office last Saturday in readiness to give up the license. With tears in his eyes he told how it was impossible for him to buy a tag, but how he was willing to work to keep his pet out of the pound. He was set to work around the Town Office and today he is, really a happy kid—and the dog is wearing a license.

It Is Some Record

WHERE do we go from here? If it wasn't so tragic, it would be ludicrous. As if there wasn't enough to do at home, to straighten out the chaotic conditions prevailing in their own Province, we now witness the spectacle of Premier Aberhart and his cohorts stumping our sister Province, Saskatchewan, telling the people down there what a success Social Credit has been in Alberta. One would think the $25 per month, promised, had been paid; the credit houses functioning perfectly; scrip a success; the budget balanced; and the many other fantastic ideas working to perfection. Instead we find increased taxation, decreased public services, budget deficits, road building incompetency, repudiated debts, a wrecked civil service—and the credit of our fair Province destroyed—but time out to make taxpayers by increasing their indemnities.

The Social Credit Government has found this "theory" and "practice" are two totally different things, shown by the discarding of their several schemes, which experiments has cost the people of Alberta thousands of dollars. It is some record. Yet Mr. Aberhart has the audacity to say to the people of Saskatchewan, "Let us get down to business, and put a business Government in power." "Ye Gods and little fishes!" If Alberta is an example of successful business administration, then heaven help Saskatchewan. It is hoped that the people in that Province will profit by the mistake electors made in Alberta in falling for fantastic theories, which glib-tongued orators put over them in 1935.

"Something like a reign of Antichrist has been let loose upon Europe," Dr. Inge.

Progress—or Otherwise?

AN editorial appearing in a 1901 copy of the Lacombe Advertiser, published at that time by J. D. Skinner, reads as follows:

"In Germany, military dominance seems to have reached the same alarming stage as in France. Civilians have been incited to speak disrespectfully of army officers and a soldier has been put to death by order of court martial on the faintest suspicion of having caused the death of an officer. The plea advanced in the latter case was, 'If murder is unavenged all order is at an end, and even if he is innocent his execution will cause a wholesale fear among men.' These events, and especially these words, have caused such a feeling in Germany as the celebrated Dreyfus case did in France, and it is hoped will lead to army reform and a curtailing of military insolence and power."

One wonders just how far civilization has advanced during the past decade or two—if at all.

A Lesson for Dictators

DICTATORS of Europe are obtaining valuable advice from the wars being waged throughout the world. The first chance that Herr Hitler and his friend, Il Duce, have of measuring the effectiveness of their modern implements of destruction was the Ethiopian conquest. Great must have been their surprise when they saw that the bombing and machine-gunning of civilians, big gun bombardments, and all Italy's mechanized forces availed slowly against a poorly armed, ill-equipped foe. The two powerful dictators watched the Ethiopians revive guerrilla warfare, a well-nigh forgotten art in these days of trench digging, and effectively cut communication lines and destroy supply depots. This guerrilla warfare still goes on in Ethiopia, and Mussolini has yet to find an effective way of conquering and subduing the natives.

And then, to prove that defensive warfare has strengthened, along came the Spanish war. For the past two years the iron men of Europe have had a close-up view of a disorganized and poorly equipped Spanish people turning back chosen legions, armed with the modern contrivances of war. They have seen how the Loyalists maintain their morale under constant pounding and able to resist every inch of Franco's advance.

Further proof that these occurrences of the previous two wars were not accidents is presented in the Sino-Japanese clash. What was in the minds of Hitler and Mussolini, think you, when the Japs were driven into and held on all fronts? When the well trained, modern army of the Rising Sun failed to advance in three months?

The truth of the matter seems to be that, just as offensive warfare has been strengthened through modern war instruments, just so much more strong has defensive warfare become. Could Germany accomplish more against a well equipped modern army than Italy and Germany together have accomplished against the Spaniards? The lessons have been given to the dictators from three different points on the globe—what the world wants to know is whether they will profit from these lessons. We hope so.

By BRIDGET

During my readings this week I came across the term, "scarcity values," better interpreted as "snob values," and wondered if most of you won't agree with me that our sense of values is mainly warped by the scarcity, or in accessibility of an article in question. Why on earth is an orchard prized so highly?—primarily, I think, because it is rare and very expensive. Years ago I was taken around a huge Conservatory filled with these exotic blooms, and must own I thought they were mainly wicked looking, and except for more common ivy and many strains, were not even pretty—rather the reverse. The lovely red tiger lilies that grow everywhere in Alberta are more beautiful to my way of thinking. Yet the ambition to receive orchids mars many a young girl's life. The shy, simple lily of the valley; the fragrant violets, the many-faced pansies, the gorgeous peonies, all of which are within our reach, are just as pleasure giving as the exotic, rare and more expensive flowers.

Doesn't this apply in just the same way to food? Let the article be scarce or difficult to procure—and it is the "tops" with most people. There are certain people who will eat three or four strawberries on a snowy day, with great relish, realizing the real and difficulty of getting them grown and conveyed to the eater! But, these same people will turn up their noses when strawberries are on the market at a few cents a pound. If oysters were as cheap as sardines, would they be prized as highly as now? There is another snob value attached to food which is quite as ridiculous. Dress up a potato, or the homely onion, or anything in a foreign tongue, and it attains a value out of all proportion to its undressed title. "En salada de Manzanas de potatas" sounds much more thrilling and alluring than plain apple and potato salad. Rechauffe, which is something warmed up, lends lustre to a bit of leftover turkey when it appears on the menu as "Dinde re chauffée."

Take a glass of milk—even it once caused a "fashion." Lovely ladies would meet in the morning to drink "Mchnikoff." "Mchnikoff," by the way, was the scientist who discovered the medicinal qualities of sour milk. While the fashion lasted, dairies made a fine thing out of the humble glass of sour milk. When the bubble burst and it was discovered even the most humble could make for themselves a glass of this beverage, the value went. "Langue de Coeur a l'ecarte" sounds delightful, and it is hard to realize that only pickled tongue will appear on our plates if we fall for it. Absurd, isn't it? Yet we are all tarred with the same brush in varying degrees.

What will future generations think of those and thousands being paid for an old, ugly, faded stamp just because of its rarity, or a huge sum expended on an equally ugly painting or sculpture, because it was done by someone with a "big name." It seems crazy, yet it is done every day.

Talking of names, there is quite a big snob value attached to names in certain professions. At one time no one dared to try to sing in opera unless they rechristened themselves with some foreign or exotic name. It was considered that only the Latin race had the God-given right to warble in opera. Madame Melba, whose glorious voice thrilled millions, was really just Nellie Armstrong, and she came from Melbourne, Australia. Madame Edwina, another opera star, was Mrs. Edwards of London. Americans are stopping, to some extent, this snobbery through their determination to sing under their everyday, ordinary sounding names—for example, Grace Moore, Lawrence Tibbett, Richard Crooks, etc.

In the same way it was considered that masters of ballet were only to be found in Russia, yet one Russian ballet master owned that his "corps de ballet" was seventy-five per cent English speaking, though not a "Smith" or a "Jones" appeared on the program. Anten Dolin, one of the greatest of modern toe dancers, began life as just an Irish lad who rejoiced in the first name of Patrick.

The Philosophy of Snob Valuation runs true right through everything connected with our daily lives—look at some of the expensive modern furniture: A chair seat sat on beautiful shiny chromium, metal bars, and a chromium bar for a back rest, cannot spell comfort, but women are mortgaging their future to possess some. Modern furniture has nothing on some of the abominably uncomfortable antique furniture which also commands huge figures. Isn't it pure snobbery which gives these articles their value?

In silk than rayon, velvet is more prized than silk, silk than rayon, linen than cotton. So it goes. Pets!—even they have a snob value. Dogs and cats, unless rare and often ugly, are "out." Lion cubs, alligators, monkeys and anything out of the way are the only things prized by the movie film stars and others.

Isn't it all foolish in this respect? Our sense of values is allowed to run amuck. Surely an article's value should be its usefulness, or the pleasure it gives us. If dyed rabbit can keep us warm, why languish to possess mink? If a pretty patterned rayon suits our purse, and is pleasing to look at, why yearn for hand-painted georgette? However, we are all human, and the unattainable is always the most desirable. Snob valuation will always be our standard of values as wealth is so unevenly distributed.

Do You Know?

HERB WATT,

who has been a resident of Lacombe since first coming here in 1927. Mr. Watt was born in Lanark Village, Ontario, January 13, 1872. He received his education there, and at the age of 16 started clerking in one of the stores of his birth place, where he worked for six years. For the next eight years Mr. Watt travelled through Southern Ontario, and worked at several points through the Province.

While in Fort William, he met Mrs. H. A. Day, and from her learned about Lacombe. In 1902 he decided to come west, and the fall of the year in which he came saw him working for H. A. Day. He continued working in the same store under D. M. Horne, and later under Pearson and Coy, who built and operated a store where the Public Lunch now stands.

A few years later, Mr. Watt was employed by A. M. Campbell, bell, whose store then was situated where the Norman Campbell Dept. Store now stands. After working for Mr. Campbell for some years, Mr. Watt went into partnership with David Hay, and for the next six years carried on a business known as "Watt & Hay." After severing connections with this firm, Mr. Watt was successively employed by A. M. Campbell, F. E. McLeod, Magnet Stores, Norman Campbell Dept. Store and others. During later years, Mr. Watt has been connected to some extent with the Town of Lacombe.

In 1903, Mr. Watt was married to Miss Margaret Abel, who had come from Aberdeen, Scotland, the previous year. They have four sons, Robert, at home; Herbert, New Westminster, B.C.; Kenneth, Lacombe and Malcolm of Port William and two daughters Mrs. H. S. Hunt of Nelson, B.C., and Margaret, attending school here.

OF INTEREST TO THE IMPERIAL VETS

Editor, Lacombe Globe:
Dear Sir—Will you be good enough to insert the letter below in an early edition of your paper.

The above association, in conjunction with other Imperial Associations, are asking that all Imperial Veterans who came to Canada under the Three Thousand Family Scheme, or other Government Settlement Schemes, who consider they have not had a square deal, and who desire to co-operate with the Association in compiling a Brief to the British Government, are requested to send for a form, upon which to make application.

"It may not be generally known," but our comrades in Australia who, like our men here, have experienced drought, etc., there, did, four years ago, ask for an investigation by the British Government. Claims for compensation were met by the British Government, in some cases as high as $2000, being due of course, to the extent of the loss sustained by the settler.

"Write for an application form in this connection to:

CHAPTER II.

Even to this day, tales are told of the social life of the Rimby community—the kitchen sociab—and other functions. . . . How the Little Town Hall (still standing and used for general store purposes) was so overcrowded at the fall of the year in which he came attending were given numbers—the "odds" dancing while the "evens" waited outside for their turn, and how at one of these affairs—back in 1907—and by the way, the late Al Preston, noted Edmonton musician, was one of the "fiddlers" at that dance—one of the cattle rustlers, bootleggers and armed, burst into

Conscience Money Often Paid to Canadian Customs

There is always a touch of human interest about "Conscience Money." The string of that indefinable thing called Conscience prompts many people who have at times evaded payment of Customs duty, to send remittances to the Department. These amounts vary from one cent to hundreds of dollars, and the accompanying letters often contain wholesome advice to "whom it may concern." A donation was remitted in the form of a one-cent postage stamp, with an explanatory note, reading briefly, "Conscience money. One cent," while another letter contained a bank draft for two thousand dollars, the sender also preferring to remain anonymous.

A sum of $500 was enclosed with a letter, typical of many, which set forth that the writer at various times during the past twenty years had purchased in the United States shoes and dresses for personal use and occasionally for friends, bringing them into Canada without paying duty. To free the conscience of the writer, a check for $500 was enclosed, which was thought to be a fair estimate of the amount which should have been paid in duties.

Spring Valley

(From Our Own Correspondent)

SPRING VALLEY.—Sunday, the two hundredth anniversary of the conversion of John Wesley, was observed at Spring Valley, according to the program arranged out by the United Church of Canada. Rev. G. D. Woollett of the Mirror, Alex and Erskine circuit, who exchanged pulpits with Rev. Kivits, gave the address to a well-filled house. Rev. Woollett's remarks, which were both scholarly and inspirational, commanded the attention of the entire congregation, and we were glad to have had him with us.

About ten days ago, while working in the field, harrowing, Mrs. Ayres had the misfortune to break his arm. An accident of this kind is had at any time but more serious at this season of the year.

There were between sixty and seventy at Sunday School last Sunday.

Practically all the wheat is in the district, and a high percentage of the cuts. In another ten days or two weeks, seeding will be completed.

The W.M.S. and Ladies' Aid Society will meet at the home of Mrs. Fred Bailey on Thursday of this week.

The World of Wheat

"Is there likely to be a premium for malting barley next year?" "What variety shall I sow to gain this premium?"

Many farmers are now asking themselves these questions. No one, of course, can forecast the future prices or future premiums, but good malting barley will certainly always command a higher price than feed barley.

The National Barley Committee, which represents the most scientific agriculturists dealing with the barley problem, recently recommended that only O.A.C. 21 or Menus Ottawa 60 should, for this year, be eligible for malting premiums.

This really means that a prairie farmer perhaps had better confine himself for the time being to O.A.C. 21, for the reason that a considerable quantity of high quality Registered First and Second generation O.A.C. 21 is, in the West, easily available, at moderate prices, to those who desire to improve their barley crops.

The growing of malting barley is really a specialty, just as is the production of high quality wheat.

Following factors have tended to raise prices:—
Broomball increases estimated importers' requirements; Cold, dry weather reduces European crop prospects; North African barley crop deteriorates; Rains hamper picking and movement of Argentine corn; Drought damages German, Austrian and Balkan fruit crops.

Following factors have tended to lower prices:—
Average U.S. private winter wheat estimates largest ever estimated on May 1st; Canadian Prairies have ample moisture for germination; Spring seeding becomes active in Russia; American new wheat sales made to Continent; 10% of corn or rice must be used in Italian bread; Corn planting under way in the U.S.; Italy bids for Argentine wheat on barley basis.

How Do "Little Savings" Finance Mortgage Loans?

Answer.—Every mortgage loan made by a Life Insurance company is made up of the savings of several policyholders.

Question.—What do these savings represent?

Answer.—They represent the money which thrifty men and women have invested in Life Insurance for the protection of themselves and their dependants.

Q.—What is the average policyholder's share in Life Insurance assets?

A.—Approximately $571.

Q.—Then it would require most of the accumulated savings of six policyholders to make a mortgage loan of $3,000?

A.—That is a fact.

Q.—How much Life Insurance money is invested in mortgages?

A.—More than $382,000,000, in first mortgages on farm, town and city properties in Canada.

Q.—In whose interests are these investments made?

A.—In the interests of more than 3,500,000 Canadian policyholders, most of whom are in modest financial circumstances.

This is the seventh of a series of messages sponsored by Life Insurance Companies operating in Canada. The eighth, to appear in two weeks' time, will deal with Life Insurance as Canada's greatest co-operative business.

BENTLEY.—We are informed that Constable McKay, R.C.M.P., who has been transferred from Smoky Lake district to the Bentley-Rimby district, will take up residence in Bentley, Constable Fordham, who is being transferred to Smoky Lake, has resided in Rimby.

About twenty Tuxis boys, Trail Rangers and boys of the Young People's group of the Bentley United Church, in company with Rev. C. A. Warren, went on a camping trip on Thursday and Friday of last week. They spent the time at Red Deer Canyon.

Mrs. W. A. Henry entertained about fifty ladies of the village and district on Thursday afternoon last at a miscellaneous shower in honor of Nurse Edith Hoglund, who was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts.

Miss Hoglund has filled the position of matron at the hospital for the past five years and during that time has many friends, who will wish her happiness in her new home. Her marriage to Mr. A. E. Brooker of Calgary takes place shortly. Following the opening of the gifts, lunch was served.

Mrs. Fred Marriot had the misfortune to cut her thumb quite badly last week, making it necessary to have several stitches to close the wound.

The C.G.T. girls closed their meetings for the summer season on Friday last with a Round-the-World seven-course supper. About eighteen of the girls, in company with the teachers, Marie Wright, and Mrs. C. A. Warren, partook of the first course at Mrs. Wright's home, and then on the following girls' homes, where the subsequent courses followed in order: June Trimble, Doris Holmes, Irene and Lily Patrick, Mary Peterson, Dorothy Dickson and Anna Rae. The evening was spent at the Rae home, where a sing-song was held.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Garrett and little daughters Phyllis and Marge were up from Calgary for the Victoria Day holiday.

The C.G.T. girls closed their meetings for the summer season on Friday last with a Round-the-World seven-course supper. About eighteen of the girls, in company with the teachers, Marie Wright, and Mrs. C. A. Warren, partook of the first course at Mrs. Wright's home, and then on the following girls' homes, where the subsequent courses followed in order: June Trimble, Doris Holmes, Irene and Lily Patrick, Mary Peterson, Dorothy Dickson and Anna Rae. The evening was spent at the Rae home, where a sing-song was held.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Garrett and little daughters Phyllis and Marge were up from Calgary for the Victoria Day holiday.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
 At all Christian Science churches next Sunday, the subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "God the Only Cause and Creator." One of the Scriptural quotations contained in the Lesson-Sermon is Isaiah 48:12, "Hearken unto me, O Jacob and Israel, my called; I am he, I am the first, I am the last."

One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, is: "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in might which does not proceed from this great and only cause." (p. 207).

Sidewalk Leading to Hospital to Be Laid This Year

A new sidewalk, to run from Barnett Ave. down Doupe St. to York St. and up York along the north side of the road to the Calgary-Edmonton highway, will be erected this summer. A crossing will be put across the road and the sidewalk will run straight up to the entrance to the hospital. It was learned from Councillor T. Wilks, chairman of the Public Works Committee.

Spruceville

(From Our Own Correspondent)

SPRUCVILLE.—The girls of this district met at Gull Lake on Sunday in the hope of forming a softball team. They became optimistic enough to challenge the Lincoln ball team.

Miss Yardley left Woody Nook Friday to spend the holiday season in Edmonton. The scholars think it's fine; they are getting an extra day's holiday out of it.

To Present Play
 The Juniors are very busy getting in extra practices of their play, "A Crazy Mix-up," which they are presenting at Spruceville Hall June 3. It will be followed by a dance.

Mrs. Dancok of Calgary is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. English on their farm. Mrs. English entertained a few ladies to meet her daughter Monday afternoon.

Although Mother's Day is now past, Spruceville community held a special Mothers' Day Service. After the hall Sunday, May 29, Rev. C. A. Warren officiated and the Sunday School presented a few special items.

Mr. Swanson has at last got his house moved from the Meisner farm to his own farm. It was quite a sight to see this large house going along the road pulled by half a dozen tractors.

Mrs. Harry Proudfoot entered Leonie Henshall recently to have her tonsils removed. She has been in ill health for a long time and it is hoped she will now regain it. Her sister, Miss Margaret McGeachy of Lincoln, is down looking after the family.

After the first ball game of the season, the players discovered their condition was not up to par and a run or two in the necessary to take the kinks out.

SUNNY CREST.
 Sunny Crest left last week for a position she has obtained at the Children's Hospital in Red Deer.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Barr have purchased a Chevrolet car. Work on their new barn is continuing steadily.

Stewart and Miss Mina Abel of Westlarch visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Woods and attended, with other visitors, the Sunny Crest morning service. Dr. C. G. McLaurin and Rev. G. E. Williams were also in attendance.

J. Fisher is much improved from his recent heart attack. Rev. and Mrs. Coxson were entertained at his home on Sunday dinner.

Rev. F. T. Mathews entertained Rev. Coxson and family, H. Woods and family, Stewart and Miss Mina Abel, Harry Porteous and Miss Phyllis Kamiah to Sunday supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Barr, Forrest and Miss Kamiah were visitors to Red Deer recently.

Last Sunday the Sunny Crest Sunday School joined the annual Bagdad picnic at McLaurin Beach.

Some of the wind-blown crops are looking green now, after the fine rain we had during the past few days.

Poppies, columbine, purple iris and yellow lilies are in bud and bloom in local gardens.

The Sunbeams recently held a class meeting at the home of Mrs. Dole. The members spent the afternoon very profitably in making gifts for their mother.

Later, the girls were invited over to the camp dining hall, where they were agreeably surprised to find the tables set in readiness for a birthday supper. The surprise was in honor of Misses Betty Saunders, Phyllis Kamiah and Kathleen McNeill. The parents of these girls were also invited to attend, as well as Rev. Mathews and Dr. C. G. McLaurin. Each girl received a dainty cup and saucer, a gift from the class.

I.O.D.E. to Ship Box to Peace River
 Arrangements have been made to pack and ship to box to the Gordon Dale School District in the Peace River country by the Lord Lanselotte Chapter I.O.D.E.

Nineteen members were present at a recent meeting when Mrs. P. W. Pratt, Regent, gave an excellent report of the meeting of the Provincial Chapter in Edmonton during April. Mrs. H. M. Jones read excerpts from the Echo. The society plans to make a quilt, on which tickets will be sold in aid of their fund-raising.

As a sponsor of the library, the Chapter reports 1182 books loaned during the month of April.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Chiswell on the second Monday of the month.

"Peace Theme" Study at W.M.S.

(From Our Own Correspondent)

"The Church and World Peace" was the theme of the study chapter and of the devotional exercises at the regular monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Wallace recently.

Enlightening information on the medical work in Canada carried on through the efforts of the W.M.S. was given by Mrs. A. Gilmore, and Mrs. W. C. Sweet, assisted by several members, conducted a questionnaire on methods of promoting world peace.

The society agreed to take charge of the evening service at St. Andrew's church on the last Sunday of the month. An interesting letter was read from Mrs. Hugh Reed. Mrs. S. Pillman offered her home for the June meeting.

WHO OWNS CANADA'S BANKS?

Who are the owners and what do they do?

JIM BROWN, carpenter—your next-door neighbor—may be one of the supposed "Big Shots" who own the banks in Canada. He may own a couple of shares, or maybe only one.

Women, executors or trustees of estates, and retired people, comprise about 63 per cent. of the shareholders in one of Canada's banks, taken as an example.

Analysis of this particular bank, which may be regarded as typical, shows that women own nearly half of its shares. Farmers, merchants and professional men are the most numerous of the classes listed.

There are 260 occupations represented among the shareholders. They include:

Accountants, actors, barbers, bankers, bee-keepers, boat-builders, bricklayers, carpenters, chessplayers, clergymen, dairymen, dentists, doctors, drivers, druggists, farmers, fishermen, forest rangers, funeral directors, grocers, insurance agents, jailers, journalists, limotipists, lobster buyers, miners, oil operators, plumbers, policemen, railway employees, railwaymen, sailors, scalars, sheriffs, stenographers, stoveholders, timber cruisers, tobacco farmers, trappers, and others.

These are among the folks who own the banks and so must be a part of that hodge with which some people seek to scare you—that fabled "international bankers' ring". They are mostly Canadians—your fellow-citizens—decent people like yourselves.

50,185 people hold the 1,445,000 chartered bank shares issued. Seventy out of every hundred shares are owned in Canada.

The average share-holding is 28.9 shares—but all through the lists of bank shareholders you will find hundreds who own from one to five shares.

There is no concentration of ownership and power in the hands of any small group. These shareholders annually elect directors. There are 172 directors of Canada's chartered banks. Their addresses dot the map of Canada from coast to coast. They are men of proven business ability; their own success has proved their judgment good; that judgment is always alert in safeguarding your money.

Their business experience reinforces the skill and training of the salaried bank executives in conserving the interests of the the hall and broke up the party because "somebody stole his gal". Although there were 11 squares of quadrille on the floor at the time, eye-witnesses claim that the floor was cleared in less than two minutes.

He Told the Truth

And then there is the story of how Sam Rimbey, an Ed. Connelly (now of Bitter Lake) in a deal for a cow, simply by telling the truth. He told Connelly that the cow was no good, but Connelly wouldn't believe him, though he was trying to slip out of his bargain and pawn of some less likely looking cow in her stead.

Connelly was a stockman and he knew a good-looking beast when he saw one, but what he didn't know was that this particular cow would eat the washing off the line—the tail out of the minister's coat (the minister had left his coat in the top-hugger when he came to call on the Connellys), and everything else in sight. What a cow!

However, Connelly eventually came into his own when he collected hundreds of dollars as a result of a horse race when he ran his "Lofty-Heywood" against Jesse Loyd's black mare. The race was staged six miles out from town on a country road, roped off for the occasion. Thousands of dollars (without a word of a lie) changed hands that day in side bets—and every business place in the village was closed.

Opinions Differ on Sask. Elections

ing was not bluffing when he offered every assistance to the provincial government if it wanted to establish a bank. They noted that the capital cost of founding a bank, through a Federal Government charter as required by constitution, amounts to just about the same amount as the sum being spent out of taxpayers' contributions this year on Social Credit propaganda and on indemnities paid to the Legislature. They observed, further, that if the Government did obey the Legislature's instructions to investigate feasibility of a provincial bank, the Government must have found that the banking business would be no gold mine, after all.

Yet a provincial bank would have the same authority, the same powers and the same restrictions as any other chartered bank in Canada. If it were true, as the Premier and his supporters claim, that banks can "create" money, then the Provincial Government by establishing a bank could create money and so supply the dividends and the purchasing power which it claims are needed. It could even put all the other chartered banks out of business as far as Alberta is concerned.

If banks really had the powers that Mr. Aberhart claims they have, then a provincial bank would allow the Alberta Government to fulfill its election pledges. If the Premier really thought that Finance Minister Dunning was "shuffling" about a provincial bank, then it plainly was up to Mr. Aberhart to call that bluff, for the benefit of the citizens of Alberta.

If he thinks he can establish a bank profitably, he is not doing his duty as Premier of Alberta as long as he refrains from it, declared political observers as they remarked that there is every indication that the present chartered banks would be pleased to have the Government take over the responsibility of all banking in this Province, because the banks lose heavily by it now.

Powell Departs

Other events of last week around the Legislative Buildings included the departure of G. F. Powell, Social Credit "expert," who came here almost a year ago to England to assist in the preparation of a Social Credit plan which still is lacking, and who has devoted himself chiefly to propaganda issue of which led to his three-month jail term for criminal libel. Mr. Powell left for England Saturday night entirely by his own desire, and is not expected back here. He drew $12 for almost every day he spent here since last June. L. D. Byrne, the other expert, who is remaining here, is drawing $6,000 a year plus expenses.

Appointment of a Gas Conservation Board to study gas wastage in Turner Valley, on a five-year commission, was also among the chief events in a week which was generally quiet due to the fact that half the cabinet had deserted their Alberta posts in order to campaign for the Social Credit cause in Saskatchewan, at the expense of Alberta taxpayers.

Gull Lake

(From Our Own Correspondent)

GULL LAKE.—From seven to ten days are needed in this district to complete the 1938 planting. Some crops are already up and are making a good showing. There was a nice brisk shower Sunday that refreshed everything after the summer heat of Friday and Saturday.

Balm Bay is a popular spot these days. Many fishermen are getting their fish. One got as many as 20, which is a good string for any angler.

Ray Saunders and F. Preston did considerable navigating to lure the wily rascals. Others caught a few from overturned boats and piers. Of course there is many an argument as to the best method—hook, by time of day, etc., etc. However, if you, Mr. Reader, believe this to be a fish story, our advice is just come out and see for yourself.

First Swim This Year. A few young ladies (the stronger of the weaker sex) made the first plunge of the season last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cabela have the sympathy of all their friends in the recent loss of their baby son.

The birds have returned to the Gull Lake School in greater numbers than before. Miss Eva Tons of Rimbey was a week-end visitor in the district recently. Harry Hansen received a shipment of small trees from the government again this year.

Levy Leskie, with the aid of a chum, was successful in landing four nice fish at Balm Bay while on his way home from the College on Friday.

Celebrates Birthday. Bill Hopkins celebrated his 70th birthday recently at the home of Mrs. J. Ebeling and Mrs. J. C. Ebeling.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hansen and family were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Gibson on Sunday.

Woody Nook softball team took the Gull Lake team "to town" in a game on Friday afternoon at the Gull Lake school. Both teams are getting in shape for the tournament on Saturday, May 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Carter of Morningside were at Brewer's Beach Sunday for a picnic and a bit of fishing.

Mrs. Win. Harris was a visitor at the home of her sister, Mrs. R. M. Gibson, on Sunday.

WESTLING.—Astor Strandberg motored to Edmonton last Thursday, returning the same day. Dr. McLean of Red Deer addressed a meeting of the Chateaux Club in the Westling Hall on Wednesday.

Spring work will be pretty well completed by the end of the week in this district.

Miss Carol Harlie returned from Edmonton this week, where she has been taking a beauty parlor course for the last six months. Miss Harlie is staying with her sister Mrs. Russell May.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Will and Margie spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mytton of Lacombe.

Mrs. Stanchfield has returned to her home in the north country after visiting some time with her daughter, Mrs. Edie Westling. Who is the man who seems to have a weakness for backing into trucks?

TURNER VALLEY PRICES MUST COMPETE WITH MONTANA

Why the price of Turner Valley crude oil must be kept at a level having a very definite relationship to the price of Montana oil was explained in a memorandum submitted to the Tariff Board of Canada recently by F. G. Cottle, Chief Auditor of the Alberta Board of Public Utilities Commissioners.

Although Montana crude oil can compete with Turner Valley crude at Calgary refineries, it can quite definitely compete at refineries in Saskatchewan and Manitoba or at Coult's. This statement is based on the assumption that the price of Turner Valley crude must be low enough to secure the Saskatchewan and Manitoba markets.

The lower crude prices in Montana result in lower refinery prices of finished products. This means lower standard prices, not only in southern Alberta but, by reason of the basis of the Alberta price structure, over the entire province. Lower refined product prices in Alberta naturally require lower crude prices for Turner Valley, so that crude prices in Montana control the price in Turner Valley independently of the product competition offered by Montana crude in Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

A History of the Lacombe Golf and Country Club

By JACK McCAUGHERTY

Today the Lacombe Golf and Country Club has one of the finest golf courses in Alberta—nine holes of beauty in the most picturesque surroundings of nature. The 1938 golf season brings on the 12th anniversary of the local club, and since the start of the first season in 1926, improvements have gone ahead rapidly until today we have a golf rendezvous which is justly a pride of the community.

It was back in 1924, on May 1, that the first steps were taken. Lacombe enthusiasts of the ancient Scottish game got together and decided they would form a golf club in our town. The original body that began the move were local business men: J. S. McCormick, the late N. E. Carruthers, F. E. McLeod, E. C. Chapman, P. C. Owen, Dr. J. H. Moore, John McDonald, W. J. Ansell, H. M. McLeod, A. Lundie, W. N. Morrison, P. W. Pratt, Dr. E. D. Locke, D. Hay, J. Fraser, Dr. Irvine, G. T. Jackson and L. Milliken.

W. N. Morrison and A. Lundie were made provisional president and secretary-treasurer, respectively, at the first meeting.

It was found by committee that the land west of town known as Hyde Park was very suitable property for the location of a golf course, and the group recommended it to the new organization after conferring with Crittenden, the "pro" of the Mayfair Golf Club of Edmonton at that time. Hyde Park was then a subdivided part of the town and is at present owned by the town.

Thus it was decided where the site of Lacombe's course was to be, and later arrangements were made whereby the land was obtained on a 20-year lease. At first it was proposed to use the name of "The St. Andrew's Club" but it was changed, to become known as "The Lacombe Golf and Country Club."

The De Luxe is richly appointed, inside and out. Closed sedans have longer bodies and larger luggage space. The V-8 engine under the hood develops 85 smooth-flowing horse power and gives 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gas, as owners report. In comfort, performance and pride of ownership, the De Luxe Ford sets a new high for the low-price field.

De Luxe prices are especially reasonable when you realize that they include a great deal of equipment for which you are often asked to pay extra. . . . The newly styled Standard Ford V-8 is even lower priced. Because both cars are Fords, you know that whatever you pay, you'll get good measure for your money.

Grade Nine Presents Final School Lit

With the 1937-38 High School term drawing to a close, the last literary program was presented recently by the Grade Nine class in the Lacombe school auditorium. The presentation was the final in the series, in which each of the four High School rooms and the Commercial class have taken part during the past year. The Grade nines put forth a program which was for the most part humorous.

The opening of community singing was followed by two exhibition rounds of boxing. Elmer Young and Erhard Derr put on the first battle, while Milton Utas and Bill Graydon gave a real drill round of blindfolded boxing. The skit, "Fatal Quest," with Mildred McKay, Lilian Bolter, Rowat Marshall, Bill Graydon, Charles Henner and John Corban taking part, followed a piano selection by Jessie Mann. George Crowley played a harmonica solo. Many laughs accompanied the reading of the school paper by Reg Wilkes and two more community songs gave way to lusty school-age voices. The skit, "A Scene in a Cafe," starring Eunice Tiltonson, Elmer Young, Walter Derr, Milton Utas and Erhard Derr, closed the afternoon of entertainment.

The Literary Society of the school this term has once more been a grand success and will go into another year in 1938-39 with two years of sound backing behind it.
